

Same Girl-Explicit Version

by Rick Rykart

When I finished with that gilded cage, oh, you said that I'd be back
You still thought love could be bought like you bought your latest Cadillac
I gave you all the best of me, you only wanted more
Now your flunkies all come round knockin' at my door...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk, the Jack's a fool
And I see you're still the same girl
The same girl that I knew...

When you're sitting in your penthouse suite telling people what to do
I wonder what "boy-toy" you'll find to make paid love to you
I gave you all the best I had, you just bitched for more
Now I'm just not answering that "fucking-phone" no more...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk, the Jack's a fool
And I see you're still the same girl
The same girl that I knew...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk but only hearts are true
And I see you're still the same girl
I see you're still the same old girl
Yes, I see you're still the same girl...
