

Same Girl

by Rick Rykart

When I finished with that gilded cage, oh, you said that I'd be back
You still thought love could be bought like you bought your latest Cadillac
I gave you all the best of me, you only wanted more
Now your flunkies all come round knockin at my door...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk, the Jack's a fool
And I see you're still the same girl
The same girl that I knew...

When you're sitting in your penthouse suite telling people what to do
I wonder what new toys you'll find to take the pain from you
I gave you all the best I had, you just demanded more
Now I just don't answer that damned telephone no more...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk, the Jack's a fool
And I see you're still the same girl
The same girl that I knew...

Queens are high and diamonds shine
The suit is silk but only hearts are true
And I see you're still the same girl
I see you're still the same old girl
Yes, I see you're still the same girl...
